DISTRICT FARM FOLK AWAITING 2-DAY SESSIONS

City Residents Also Interested In Annual Institute

VARIED PROGRAM TO BE PRESENTED

Business Bureau to Co-operate With Five District Granges

Rural residents of the district, as well as interested folk from the city, will gather at the Memorial building at 10 a. m. Wednesday and Thursday when the 11th annual Salem Farmers Institute is held under sponsorship of Perry, Goshen, Willow Grove, Salem and Mt. Nebo granges and the Salem Business Bureau.

Officers and committeemen have lined up what promises to be an interesting and varied program for this season's institute, an event which has been long-awaited by the grangers.

It's all free and the programs in the past have proven quite interesting. This year's programs are to be no exception.

Opens at 10 A. M. Wednesday

The institute will open at the Memorial building at 10 a. m. Wednesday, followed by an afternoon and evening session. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held the next day, followed by a Business Bureau program in the High school auditorium.

Besides the regular institute state speakers, the crowds will hear Ralph H. Moyer, associated with the U. S. agricultural adjustment administration; L. L. Rummel, Columbus, of the public relations division of the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants; Dr. Charles L. Smith; Ford Lower, county agricultural agent, and talks by the different grange leaders.

The state speakers will be Asa C. Mattern of Fredericksburg, Ind. and Mrs. Bessie Ziegler of Amboy, Ind. Entertainment, besides the plays and musical numbers of the five granges, will include the Junior Order of American Mechanics band from Canton, the Payne Brothers quartet from Wellsville, and the Will Ross, Salem magician and ventriloquist.

Mr. Nebo grange will be in charge of the initial session Wednesday morning, while Salem grange will have charge in the afternoon. The evening session will be in charge of Goshen grange.

Willow Grove grange will have charge Thursday morning and Perry grange in the afternoon.

Speaks on "Western Reserve"

Dr. Smith, at the Business Bureau program at the High school building that night, will speak on "The Western Reserve."

The institute will hear Mr. Moyer of the agricultural adjustment administration Wednesday afternoon, speaking on "The 1939 Agricultural Program and Its Historical Background."

Eight Men Held In Nickel Steal On N.Y. Subways

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The arrest of eight men accused of stealing 26 million nickels, or $1,300,000, from the city-owned subway system over a five-year period today speeded up District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's investigation of an amazing shortage.

The eight suspects were booked on charges of grand larceny and forgery after an all-night questioning.

Ten others questioned were permitted to go home with instructions to return later in the day for further examination.

Dewey said the subway had been systematically looted of three per cent of its gross receipts—about 291,628,000 total fares annually—by a ring of 30 station agents and maintenance men.

Several of the suspected "nickel pirates" were found to have "retired" before Dewey's aides exposed the huge-scale thefts.

DEATH SUMMONS REV. O. C. KRAMER

North Georgetown, Se- bring Pastor Succumbs At Home

SEBRING, Jan. 17.—Rev. Oscar C. Kramer, 68, pastor of English Lutheran churches in Sebring and North Georgetown, died at 2 a. m. today at his home here after a two weeks illness which followed a heart attack.

Rev. Kramer had served as pastor of the Sebring and North Georgetown English Lutheran churches for four and one-half years. He came here from New Pittsburgh, near Wooster.

A minister for 43 years, Rev. Kramer had served pastorates in Lima, Findlay, Gallon, Newcomerstown, Perryville and New Pittsburgh in addition to Sebring and North Georgetown. He was a member of the Masonic lodge.

Born in Tiffin, Rev. Kramer was a graduate of the Hamm Theological Seminary at Springfield.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anna Martin, at home, and several nieces and nephews. His wife died three years ago.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Trinity English Lutheran church in Sebring in charge of Rev. S. D. Myers, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church of Alliance. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Joseph Stittler, president of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio. Burial will be in Hope cemetery, Salem.

Friends may call at the home anytime Thursday afternoon or evening. The body will lie in state in the Sebring Trinity English Lutheran church from 11 a. m. Friday until time for the funeral service.

APPROVE EXTRA CONSTRUCTION

School Board Members Authorize New Work On Addition

The board of education, at a special meeting Monday night, authorized extra improvements in the new High school addition at a cost of $4,438.81.

The Atlas Construction Co., general contractor, was ordered to incorporate changes and extras in the amount of $3,119.29, while extra ordered for the electrical contractor, William Rance, will cost $1,319.32.

New work ordered by the board for the general contractor includes installation of a planning center in the machine shop, an exhaust and cooling system for the same room, erection of a metal stairway from the second floor to the roof, removal of a wall partition in the principal's office and a minor change in the roof construction.

Supt. E. S. Kerr reported work on the six-room addition progressing favorably, although there has been a week's delay in the delivery of steel for the roof. The steel was to have been delivered today, preparatory to the pouring of the concrete roof. The concrete will be poured as soon as the weather moderates.

The board has received the approval of the PWA on the stoker contract awarded to the Citizens Ice & Coal Co. Installation of the stokers will start Friday.

NOMINATION OF JUSTICE O. K.'D

Frankfurter Is Approved For High Court In Senate Vote

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The senate confirmed today the nomination of Felix Frankfurter to be an associate justice of the supreme court.

The liberal Harvard law school professor was nominated for the high court by President Roosevelt to fill the vacancy created last year by the death of Benjamin N. Cardozo.

The action came without debate. Republicans said they had agreed in an advance caucus not to oppose the nomination.

It was confirmed without a record vote.

"Two Fastest Runners" Exchange Messages On Anniversary of Their Escape from Death

Whenever Friday the 13th rolls around on the calendar, as it did last week, C. E. Tolerton of the Da-las, Tex., is reminded of the most thrilling experience of his career, an experience which nearly cost him his life.

It was on a Friday the 13th in January 34 years ago that Tolerton and a party of five other Americans and two Mexican stage coach drivers left Torreon, Mexico, to examine mining properties owned by the Yaqui Smelting & Refining Co., at Camp Toledo, 74 miles away in the state of Sonora, Mexico.

Six days after leaving Torreon, the party was attacked by hostile Yaqui Indians, who killed four of the Americans and one Mexican stage driver.

The party, in addition to Tolerton, included Merrill A. Call of Toledo, a cousin of Tolerton; Walter Stubinger of Kewanee, Ill., and H.

CRISIS BATTLE SEEN IMMINENT NEAR BARCELONA

FRANCO HIMSELF TAKES COMMAND

Loyalist Troops now Must Either Fight or Surrender

(By Associated Press)

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), Jan. 17.—Reinforced government and insurgent armies reformed their lines 35 miles west of Barcelona today for an apparently imminent battle on which may rest the fate of the government capital and the outcome of the Spanish civil war.

With their backs to the sea following the insurgent occupation of Tarragona over the weekend, the government forces were believed to have been increased to approximately 400,000 men by recent conscriptions.

Well Re-inforced

Military observers estimated that Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco could increase his attacking forces to some 500,000 for the approaching conflict for possession of highways to Barcelona.

Franco himself took command of the drive on the capital as the big European powers watched the offensive which may end the two and a half year old civil war. He was at the head of the main column moving eastward along the Lrida-Barcelona highway toward Igualada, believed to be the northern end of the government's new lines.

From the start of the insurgents' drive the strategy of the government command has been to withdraw from one fortified position to another without risking a decisive battle. Now, military observers said, the government troops must either fight or surrender.

Pushing forward from Cervera, which was captured yesterday, Franco's column was reported to have advanced about 10 miles, placing it about 40 miles by air from Barcelona and abreast of another insurgent column which moved southeastward from Cervera to the village of Bellprat.

Other Contingents Move Up

Almost as close to the capital were the insurgent armies advancing up the Mediterranean coast from Tarragona. While Moroccan and Navarrese troops cleaned up the area around Tarragona and Reus, which they had captured over the week-end, one contingent moved northward to take the village of Catllar, six miles north of

Bricker Launches Ohio Assembly on Economy Program

Legislature Is Set To Revise Finance Policies, Hit Cor- ruption, Waste

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Confronted with Gov. John W. Bricker's demand for "stringent economies", the Ohio legislature was launched today on a far-reaching program to revise drastically the state's financial policies and to drive asserted corruption and waste out of the government.

Sounds Keynote

Addressing the general assembly in his biennial message, Governor Bricker sounded this keynote of his administration:

"With efficient and economical administration of revenue producing instrumentalities of the government, coupled with stringent economies in the administration of the many departments, divisions, boards and bureaus of state, I am convinced that the present financial dilemma can be met, and Ohio once more placed upon a sound financial basis without any increase, but probably an ultimate decrease in taxation."

The state's new chief executive, first Republican in that office for eight years, struck out vigorously with condemnation of the outgoing administration of Martin L. Davey, declaring:

"We have not been in office long, but long enough to know that there has been a reckless spending of public money. There has been a flagrant abuse of power. Honesty and economy are yet prerequisites to good government."

Faces Deficits

Governor Bricker said the state faced deficits of $12,000,000 in the school foundation program and $2,000,000 in the state's general revenue while financial crisis threatened local communities whose poor relief resources were virtually exhausted.

To meet the financial problem, Bricker's message recommended an overhauling of appropriation and tax policies, chiefly abolishing the practice of earmarking revenues for certain taxes for special purposes such as relief, schools and old age pensions.

Instead, he asked the legislature to appropriate specific sums for these functions from the general revenue fund into which would be paid revenues from the currently earmarked taxes.

This method, continued the governor, would insure these activities receiving sufficient funds without incurring deficits and at the same time maintaining efficient control over the state's expenditures.

The school foundation deficit, Bricker added, should be retired over a period of years by the state, which would immediately relieve local school districts of interest charges on the debts resulting from

GROUP SCORED FOR COMMUNISM

Court Names Operating Receiver for Salem Organization

LISBON, Jan. 17.—Members of the First Czechoslovak Educational club of Salem were scored for Communistic activities and violation of their liquor permit in an opinion delivered Monday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge Frank Cope of Carrollton, hearing a suit for dissolution of charter filed by Martin Zatzko, trustee of the club.

Judge Cope Monday resumed a hearing opening in December when the litigants were allowed 30 days to settle their differences, if possible. Monday attorneys for both sides indicated they had failed to reach an amicable agreement.

In his opinion the judge stated there was sufficient evidence presented to convince him that members of the club had engaged in Communistic activities and that there were sufficient grounds for a court of equity probe.

Zatzko, in his petition, asserted that certain members were avowed Communists. At the hearing in December testimony was introduced indicating that one member had brought red flags to a meeting, purportedly for parade use by children.

The judge also criticized the club for illegal operation of its bar, stating it was evident a large part of the organization's funds had been acquired by violating the club's liquor permit. The petition charged that the bar was not closed at midnight.

Frank Eckstein of Salem was appointed operating receiver by the court following a recess in which counsel for both sides conferred. The appointment was made on a joint recommendation.

The court deferred action on dissolution of charter for 30 days, at the expiration of this period, Eckstein will file a report with the court on which the charter action will be based.

John Taylor Is Appointed To "Council"

Named by Bricker to body To Improve Laws Between States

Former State Senator John Taylor of Salem was signally honored today by Governor John W. Bricker with appointment as a member of the council of state governments.

The council embraces members from 39 states of the Union.

On the council each state, which participates in the movement, is represented by 15 citizens, five from the senate, five from the house and five selected by the governor of the state.

The purpose of the council is to procure the adoption of uniform laws for all of the states and to bring about, insofar as possible, the elimination of conflicting taxation and trade barriers between states.

For instance, it is pointed out that Missouri has more "customs houses," or "ports of entry," than the entire United States.

Taylor served as a member of the council while he was a state senator. He expects to attend the general assembly of the council Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in Washington.

Highlights On Gov. Bricker's Economy Speech

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—The Ohio legislature cheered last night these portions of Gov. John W. Bricker's message:

"This assembly is to be complimented for writing the anti-graft provision in the temporary appropriation act. A permanent statute of this character, and more comprehensive than that which has been provided, should be written into the law of Ohio."

State-owned automobiles should be inventoried, distinctly marked and used only for the transaction of the state's business.

Under this pledge of no increase in taxation and confronted with this deficit which we have inherited, it is perfectly apparent that stringent economies, no matter how distasteful, in the administration of the several departments, boards, bureaus and commissions of the state government must be practiced.

I recommend to the earnest consideration of this assembly the matter of appropriations of specific amounts for such purposes (old age pensions, schools and poor relief now receiving ear-marked tax revenues) and the removal of earmarking of specific tax revenues therefor.

The state's function (in poor relief) should be limited to the maintenance of relief and to the supervision of the distribution and use of state funds.

We have today a Republican administration determined to help business leaders rather than to hinder them.

I ask you to give attention to the proposal that, whenever practicable, tax-supported institutions in Ohio be required to burn coal mined in Ohio.

Program Planned
In Winona Church

Entries are being received for an amateur night program to be given at the Winona M. E. church Wednesday evening, Jan. 25. The program is sponsored by the Epworth league of the church.

Musical numbers and readings are eligible for the contest and winners will be awarded prizes. Entries must be made before Monday, Jan. 23, with Miss Vera Barber, phone 32-W, Winona, or Clyde Bennett, phone 35, Winona.

All amateur musicians and entertainers are welcome to compete in the program.

G. O. P. Chiefs Plan Trip To Columbus

LISBON, Jan. 17.—Columbiana county Republican leaders went to Columbus last night for a conference with state party chiefs on patronage under Governor John W. Bricker's administration.

Making the trip were Atty. Lynn Riddle, vice chairman of the county Republican executive, and G. Cecil Rauch, Lisbon mayor and secretary of the committee.

227 MORE JOBS ARE ABOLISHED

Workers In Divisions 7 and 8 Affected By Today's Cuts

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Highway Director Robert S. Beighler abolished 227 additional jobs today as he faced a civil service fight in his effort to oust J. Matthew Carr as personnel director.

The abolitions increased to 1,361 the total of discharges made by the new Republican administration of Gov. John W. Bricker.

Two hundred of these fired today were maintenance and construction workers in division 7, covering Mercer, Auglaize, Drake, Shelby, Miami, Logan, Champaign and Clark counties.

Twenty seven were in division 8 and included seven resident engineers, Earl W. Riber of Eaton, Matthew Boylan of Dayton, Julian S. Paxton of Hamilton, Charles E. Miller of Cincinnati, H. W. Walsh of Xenia, Charles E. Kunker of Lebanon and Frank H. Galbreath of Batavia.

McKee Resigns

Beighler also announced the resignation of Charles E. McKee of Zanesville as planning engineer in charge of highway work in the Muskingum conservancy district. Since the work in the district is about completed, Beighler said the position would not be filled.

The director announced that it might be necessary to rehire some of the construction and maintenance workers who have been discharged when the summer highway program is expanded.

"I won't resign," declared Carr, who was suspended for 30 days by Beighler, with the announcement that removal charges would be filed unless a resignation were forthcoming. "If they abolish my job, that's all right so long as they don't fill it again."

Beighler acted after determining, he said, that employment files had been destroyed in 10 of the 12 highway division offices on orders from Columbus two days before Gov. John W. Bricker and his cabinet took office.

1,134 Go In One Week

The new administration in its first week discharged 1,134 employees, 626 of them from the roads department, and Beighler has announced that a total of 500 would go this week.

Leetonia Debaters Win 4 In Tourney.

Lose to Palestine

LEETONIA, Jan. 17.—Although victorious in a recent speech tournament at Struthers, Leetonia High school lost a debate here last night to East Palestine High school.

Leetonia took the affirmative side and East Palestine the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain."

John Gunnell of the speech department of Mt. Union college was the judge.

The locals, however, were successful in four of the eight debates at the recent Struthers tournament. The Leetonia affirmative team, consisting of John Gaughan and Louise Cox, managed to secure decisions from Painesville and St. Clairsville, while the negative team, comprising Mary Lou Larson and Robert Baker, defeated North Canton and East Palestine.

This is the first year for debate at Leetonia High school and the achievement of the speakers has been encouraging. Leetonia is entered in a debate tourney at Painesville on Saturday.

Marsilia to Have Operatic Audition

Joseph Marsilia of Salem, known professionally as Ronald Marsilia, will audition for the Metropolitan Opera Sunday during a half-hour program over the National Broadcasting system.

Marsilia, young tenor who has been studying recently at the Juillard school of music in New York City, has appeared several times in recent months in Cleveland where he is well known.

Predictions of a brilliant operatic career have been made by former musical instructors and critics who have heard the singer. Marsilia will sing several numbers during the program Sunday, which will be heard from 5 to 5:30 p. m., together with other young artists.

DIRECTIONS: USE MODERATELY

This business of protecting what's good and resisting what's bad gets unpleasantly thick sometimes. The American recipe calls for letting the other fellow say what he thinks even if he's wrong. As Prof. Frankfurter pointed out to inquiring senators quizzing him about civil liberties last Thursday, those liberties must be guaranteed to those we like and those we detest.

Americans have pinned their faith on that recipe to hold up in the long run. They believe that by giving everybody and his brother the right to blow off steam a lot of explosions can be averted.

But even the best recipe can go haywire with bad ingredients. Americans should do more thinking and talking about that aspect of civil liberties. It is unfortunately true that many who profess to believe in them are insincere. Liberty, to them, is license to destroy everything they oppose, including their opponents and even the government which guarantees them the right to voice their grievances.

Because they're lopsided and insincere, they take unfair advantages. They incur resentment. They try the patience of their opponents. They work the willing horse to death. They maliciously undermine the reasonableness of human nature which is the foundation of civil liberties.

Civil liberties can be protected by moderation; they can be destroyed by excess—a fact every American should have printed and nailed to a bedpost where he will be sure to be reminded of it night and morning.

WHAT RELIEF BATTLE?

The need for better words and phrases to tell what's going on is evident when the first important issue in Washington is called a relief battle.

The battle has nothing to do with relief. Congressmen are committed to relief as solidly as they're committed to preservation of the American home.

Insofar as there's any battling, it's over the question of whether or not the legislative branch of the United States government can recapture authority over federal spending.

That is the significance of the restrictions placed on the spending of the $725,000,000 deficiency appropriation for relief by the house, and the further restrictions the senate is reported to have in mind.

There was a time in the history of the new deal when congressmen were glad to let the chief executive spend the money. Like Barkus, he "was willin'." It seemed the likeliest way to get it spent in a hurry. Some insisted it also was a likely way to cause a lot of trouble for representative democracy. They were howled down.

A rude awakening occurred last summer and fall, when legislative candidates began to understand what the power of the purse in the hands of the head of a political party meant. They determined then and there it was time to recapture the power of the purse. The relief bill is the first test of that determination.

BE PREPARED

Ever since 1913 when Ohio was chopped into 22 congressional districts the two parties have been lined up for a game of pounce.

One of the first bills introduced in Columbus called for a redistricting of the state. Ohio has been entitled to 24 representatives ever since results of the 1930 census became available as a basis for congressional reapportionment. It has the 24, but two are elected at large, instead of by districts.

Seven years elapsed since reapportionment. The general assembly is supposed to redistrict the state after each census, provided the results indicate it's necessary. In two more years another census will be taken.

The situation is like that which used to occur when football players stood in a circle around a loose ball, each side fearing to make the first move lest the other side take advantage of a misplay. Any sudden noise from the direction of Columbus, as of riot and insurrection, will signify that the Republicans, weary of suspense and confident in their newly found strength, have decided to pounce.

The last time the state was redistricted Democrats made the first move and carried the day, at least according to the opposition. Republicans may find courage in 1939 to seek the revenge they're anticipated to these many years.

UP IN THE AIR

All the American people know about military aviation is what they're told. And what they're being told is that the United States must have thousands of new planes and preparations for building thousands more quickly in event of emergency.

They look at a map of the world. They notice that Europe is much smaller than their own country; that the airplane is a vital implement of offensive (not defensive) warfare in Europe because of the nearness of important European cities to one another.

They recall that airplane bombardments of Madrid have not been of great military importance even though the city itself has been wrecked. They recall that the Atlantic ocean separates North America from Europe and that the ocean still is too wide to be bridged by an airplane. They do not recall hearing that the United States is going to be attacked from any other quarter by air—certainly not from the Pacific.

They would like to be told more about the airplane's function in national defense. There's a wide open space in their working knowledge of the matter. If they knew more about it, large scale spending for new planes would be easier to bear—or would it?

AN INTERESTING and eventful day is probable, according to the benefic planetary rulership. There is promise of the fulfillment of some very constructive ideals or major plans, to which very close, clever and intensive application of splendid facilities may bear surprising fruition. Sharp and shrewd talents as well as much versatility and resourcefulness may assist toward this high road to success, attended by happiness and personal prestige.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves under rather expansive programs for attaining high goals or cherished hopes and wishes. This is likely to be the culmination of much versatility and talent, with fine organizing and executive ability, stimulating to a definite ambitious objective. Success may lie in a professional direction, or diplomatic, political or institutional management—all enhancing fortunes, prestige and personal popularity.

A child born on this day will be adaptable, resourceful and ambitious, with much organizing ability and keen perception of factors making for important success in life. The professions, politics, diplomacy or managerial honors await it.

ITALIAN VETERANS RETURN FRENCH MEDALS

ROME, Jan. 17.—Italian veterans today sent back French medals they won in the World war and some newspapers spoke of a "split in the face" for France as bitterness against the neighbor across the Alps reached a new peak.

The Fascist extremist newspaper Il Tevere declared that 44,000 Italians "split in the face of the third republic" which "patiently is wiping its face with sheets of its newspapers."

Brig. Gen. Silvio Lucco Mussino, retired officer of Turin, started the movement to return the medals by sending his Croix de Guerre to a Rome newspaper.

He proposed that Italian veterans send all their French decorations, to be returned to the president of France. The medals promptly began to pour in with letters expressing disgust at having "defended swinish France."

French disparagement of the Italian army and navy and a Fascist belief that Paris was considering sending aid to the Spanish government in its civil struggle stirred the resentment.

Il Messaggero attacked a statement attributed to the Paris-Midi that "only imperious necessity can make Italian sailors lose sight of their native shore," which was published in all papers beneath indignant headlines.

"The 'imperious necessity' is about to become apparent," Il Messaggero said. "If provocations continue, other shores will be visited soon by sailors of his Italian majesty."

Il Popolo Di Roma demanded to know whether France desired to "push an already red-hot situation toward irreconcilable." If it should, the newspaper said, the Italian people would be found "ready as if for a feast day."

The "ignoble language of the French press," Il Popolo added, "constitutes, insofar as it expresses the state of mind of all France, an insurmountable barrier to world pacification."

"When such ignoble depths are reached, the pen must give way to the whip applied to the back-sides which are accustomed to German boots; or better yet, as already has been very well said, to a spit in the face."

The Italian government already has warned that Italy would "reassume full liberty of action" if foreign assistance went to the Spanish government on a vast scale. An official announcement disclosed Italian soldiers were among the first Spanish insurgent troops to enter Tarragona, Spanish seaport which fell to the insurgents Sunday.

NORMAN, Okla.—University of Oklahoma officials have halted the fatigue experiments of Charles Thompson, graduate student. Thompson planned to find out what makes a person become tired by using himself as a guinea pig. Dr. Alma J. Neill, acting head of the university psychology department, termed the method of experiment "too dangerous."

Colds Really Are Beneficial In Some Ways, Tests Show

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
GREAT horror is shown by statisticians and sociologists at the havoc wrought by the common cold. About a million people will be incapacitated this week from colds, making a loss of three thousand years of working time.

That looks impressive but I doubt if there is as much trouble as it looks on paper. That work all gets done some way or other. And I have always felt that a cold was kind of a nice thing. It puts you to bed for a day or two and lets you rest your poor, old, tired nervous system. You putter around the house and find things in drawers that you had forgotten you had. And it is a great satisfaction to think of those poor slaves doing all your work at the office for you.

This idea that a cold is a good thing gets some support from the observations of Dr. Charles Armstrong.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

strong, of the U. S. Public Health Service, published in the public health reports on November 25th. Colds, according to Dr. Armstrong, are good things in more ways than one.

Curbs Other Infections

Dr. Armstrong began to think about the well-known fact that a sleeping sickness and infantile paralysis are summer illnesses, and the common cold is a winter illness. Sleeping sickness and infantile paralysis both enter the body through the nose. Is it possible that a good nose infection with the common cold crowds out the more terrible diseases?

Working on this suggestion, Dr. Armstrong made some experiments. He washed the noses of white mice with salt water and pooled the washings. Then he grew a culture of bacteria from the washings and put minute amounts of these cultures into the noses of other mice several times a week. After a few days he inoculated their noses with the virus of sleeping sickness. Sixty per cent of them survived this inoculation, while in a control group of mice which had not been previously sprayed with the bacterial culture only 25 per cent survived.

Apparently the previous nasal infection raised a resistance in the membrane to other infections. It was found that the bacterial spray caused the production of white blood cells, which have a defensive role against infections. These white cells were poured into the nasal mucous membrane in great quantities. They apparently produced immunity for five days.

It is possible that some form of immunization can be produced in this way and that the experiments have a practical side. Certainly it would be worth trying in a community faced with an epidemic of infantile paralysis. A "summer cold," even if deliberately induced, is a welcome substitute for either of the other common summer infections.

Questions and Answers

M. I. C.: "Please tell us something about nearsighted eyes. I understand a child is born with that condition. Is it likely to get worse? Or does it improve with properly-fitted glasses?"

Answer: Nearsightedness is due to the eyeball being too long. People are born that way. In some cases it develops during youth and then comes to a standstill. This is simple or stationary myopia. Other cases are progressive up to the twenty-fifth or thirtieth year. The wearing of well-fitted glasses improves the condition in every way. Rigid hygienic rules must be enforced.

L. L.: "Is saccharin harmful to one with a heart murmur?"

Answer: No. Careful investigations have shown that saccharin, if taken over a long period, does no harm whatever.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp. Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 W. 45th st., New York City. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are harmless. Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All drugstores.

300 Attend Eastern Star Chapter Association Rally

More than 300 O. E. S. members attended the 17th annual session of the Association of Chapters of the Thirteenth district of the Order of Eastern Star in the temple here Monday.

The following officers presided: President, Mrs. Iva Stoner of Massillon; vice president, Mrs. Florence Howell of East Liverpool; secretary, Mrs. Clara Hauger of Brewster; treasurer, Charles McCowan of Alliance; conductress, Mrs. Florence Maple of Alliance; chaplain, Merle Messenheimer of Alliance; organist, Mrs. John W. Hundertmark.

Guests included Mrs. Mary Wollerman of Toledo, worthy grand matron, and Mrs. Minnie Fisher of Massillon, deputy grand matron, who were presented flowers, together with the president, Mrs. Stoner. Mrs. Ed. M. Jenkins presented the flowers to the officers for the district organization.

The chapter room was decorated with palms, flowers and candelabra. Rolland G. Beck, worthy patron of Salem chapter, welcomed the guests with Mrs. Howell giving the response.

Worthy matrons and associate matrons formed a court of honor through which the grand matron was escorted to the east. Each of the matrons and associates presented her a red rose. Mrs. Alyce Sole Jones of Canton sang a song in honor of Mrs. Wollerman.

The Anna Eckley chapter of Naples conducted the memorial service during the morning, using large baskets of flowers in emblematic colors, which were later placed in a basket on the altar. A vocal selection concluded the memorial.

Officers were elected for next year, including: President, Mrs. Katherine Muncie of Louisville; vice president, Mrs. Jutta McCormick of Salineville; secretary, Mrs. Ruby Bircher of Louisville; treasurer, Mrs. Mollie Heiniger of Carrollton.

The Massillon chapter presented red roses to the officers who are members of that group and corsages to the grand matron, deputy grand matron, secretary and president.

Luncheon was served at noon, with Mrs. Lillie Lewton of Winona as chairman of the kitchen committee, and Mrs. Charles Fineran, the dining room. The hall was decorated in pastel shades.

The Salem chapter members exemplified the ritualistic work in the afternoon. The Salem choir was heard in several numbers during the initiatory work.

Mrs. Charles R. Gibson gave a vocal selection. Pro-term candidates in the initiation ceremony were Mrs. Winifred Martin of Columbiana, worthy matron of that chapter, and Mrs. Eva McCord of Lisbon, worthy matron there. Mrs. Gertrude Stewart officiated in the Bible presentation ceremony, with musical accompaniment by Mrs. Hundertmark.

Mrs. Wollerman, grand matron, addressed the assembled chapters at the conclusion of the work. Salem members were highly commended on the work presented during the afternoon.

The meeting next year will be held in Canton.

Book Club Hears Talk By Atty's Caplan

Mrs. Ross Clay, first vice president, presiding at the Book club meeting in the library yesterday in place of Mrs. William D. King, president, introduced Atty Lozier Caplan who addressed the club on "The Return to Palestine."

Atty Caplan discussed the problems and persecution of the Jewish people today in Europe and their return to Palestine which they are attempting to convert into a national Jewish home. He described changes in the country in recent years and the work of reclamation and rebuilding which the returned Jews have started. He stated that more than a quarter million Jews had gone to Palestine within the last year in the hope of finding permanent homes.

The program included: A "Better English" drill, conducted by Mrs. Cloyd Harris, assisted by club members; "News Items," Mrs. Or Sanor; vocal selections by a trio, "The End of a Perfect Day" and "The Bells of St. Mary's" Doris and Dorothy Hinkle and Janet Greenstein; piano number, "Liebestraume" (Liszt), Miss Emma Bauman; and a reading by Mrs. Ralph Long.

The Book club will meet jointly with the Travelers and Salem Music Study club for a program at the library on Jan. 24.

Epidemics Among Children Listed

LISBON, Jan. 17.—An epidemic of communicable diseases, principally among children, was reported Monday by the county health office here.

The office listed 14 cases of scarlet fever, ten cases of whooping cough, nine cases of chicken pox and three cases of measles. All homes affected have been quarantined.

In Power-Dam Battle

Senator Alben Barkley

Senator Warren R. Austin

Termining protests of Republican governors in New England over "land seizure" for power dams a "smoke-screen" for repealing legislation permitting the dams to generate federal power, New Dealers prepared to resist. Although President Roosevelt made known he would not press a fight for the dam in Vermont to which Governor George D. Aiken objected as a violation of states' rights, Senator Alben W. Barkley (left), of Kentucky, majority leader, marshalled forces to oppose efforts of Senator Warren R. Austin (right), of Vermont, to repeal the Barkley flood control amendment, permitting operation of dams as power projects.

MCUNE RENAMED HOSPITAL HEAD

Officers Re-elected; Two New Trustees Chosen At Annual Meeting

There were 695 surgical cases and 271 medical cases. Twenty-three tuberculosis patients were reported. Obstetrical cases numbered 323. Babies born at the hospital during the year numbered 315. There were 15 still born.

Children admitted to the hospital for surgical treatment totaled 110, and for medical treatment, 28.

Deaths at the hospital included 52 men and 39 women. Four hundred and six major operations were performed, besides 493 minor operations. Pay patients treated totaled 409, part pay patients, 1,181, and free patients, 18.

The total number of days represented in the treatment of patients is 20,428. The average stay of patients was eight days. Of the 1,627 patients admitted, 700 were Salem residents.

Net income from operation of the hospital for the year was $113,088 against $113,774 for 1937. A detailed financial report was submitted by L. H. Colley, treasurer.

Discusses Insurance

Last month representatives of the hospital and board of trustees met with members of the Central Clinic for the purpose of discussing plans for group hospital insurance. This was the first step toward a group hospitalization plan in Salem.

Changes in the personnel of the hospital were reviewed. These included the retirement of Dr. Stanton Heck, roentgenologist, who quit X-ray work after 25 years' service with the hospital. Dr. Lea Cobbs was appointed his successor.

Miss Mary Louise Tracy, instructor of nurses, submitted her report last night, covering all activities of the nurses home.

There were 30 students in school at the start of the new year, two more than a year ago. Fourteen were enrolled in September of the past year, four were dismissed while eight completed training and received diplomas.

Of the eight students who completed their training, five are now employed in the hospital. Eight graduates of the school took the state examination for registered nurse in 1937 and '38 and passed. Miss Tracy reported. Four took the exam last month but returns have not been announced.

Activities of the hospital auxiliary were covered in a report submitted by Mrs. Arthur Brian, president, and Mrs. C. J. Lehwald, secretary.

Reduces Expenses

SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 17.—Walter N. Elder, county commission chairman, said today Clark county's new Republican administration has slashed salaries and eliminated jobs to make a saving of $100,000 monthly. He said, however, the county faced a relief crisis, and state relief administration had ordered all payments stopped by Jan. 1 unless a $100,000 deficit had been financed by that date.

PUERTO RICAN AIR BASE SEEN

Navy Prepared to Spend 4-Million On Site at San Juan

WASHINGTON — The establishment of a United States air base in Puerto Rico, now regarded by naval observers as a virtual certainty, will go far toward making this country's control of the Caribbean "airtight," competent sources believe today.
The area southeast of Puerto Rico has long been regarded as the weakest link in the United States' otherwise formidable chain of defenses in the Caribbean. The Lesser Antilles, consisting of a string of small islands stretching from Puerto Rico to the east coast of South America, contain numerous passages through which hostile vessels might slip for an attack on the Panama Canal or other vital points in the Caribbean area.

Stands as Half-way Point
The establishment of an air base at San Juan would place
United States air forces roughly at a midway point between North and South America and enable aircraft to maintain a constant patrol of the eastern Caribbean.

In addition, Puerto Rico proper has no harbors capable of taking care of the fleet, and no proposal for the establishment of a navy base there is being discussed at present, but the island of Culebra, just to the east, could easily accommodate numerous large warships in case of emergency.

Although an air base at San Juan will vastly improve this country's defensive position in the Caribbean, it will not eliminate all weaknesses in this area. Strategists feel the United States' position could be strengthened to a point near invulnerability through the acquisition of additional naval or air establishments just off the South American mainland and a point between there and Puerto Rico.

Guantanamo Nearest Base
The Puerto Rican base would give the United States its easternmost position in the Atlantic. San Juan is about 600 miles east of the United States naval base at Guantanamo.
An air base here would be of great importance in the event the United States were to go to the aid of one of the South American nations. Vessels and planes from the United States' east coast could be afforded considerable protection en route to the area of hostilities.
It is reported the base will cost approximately $4,000,000. A special naval board, authorized by Congress, has been studying the question of new bases and it is expected the recommendation for the San Juan base will be submitted to congress for approval.

NEWARK IS VICTIM OF SCHOLASTIC CAGE UPSET

QUAKERS KEEP PACE IN OHIO WITH 2 GAMES

State Scholastic Cage Teams Face Another Full Program

Ohio's High school basketballers plunged into another full program today following last week's barrage featured throughout the state by the "swish" of balls through the hoop as stars staged one-man performances, and the thud of top-notch teams falling before foes "who didn't have a chance".

Keeping pace with the parade, Salem High school's Quakers, who have won four of their six starts, will take on two opponents again this week, meeting East Palestine at the local gym Friday night and facing Youngstown East at Youngstown Saturday night.

Major casualty last week was Newark, defending Class A state champion, which bowed to Lancaster's n-and-out squad 19-18 Saturday night. It was Lancaster's first win in 13 starts against the state, central district and Central Ohio league champions and Newark's first defeat by an Ohio squad in 24 contests, only Farrell, Pa. having beaten the Wildcats since Massillon pulled the trick early in the 1937-8 campaign.

Paul Adams, Newark's All-Ohio forward, still is on the sidelines with an injury, dimming the Wildcat hopes against Marietta Friday and Massillon Saturday.

New Philadelphia, beaten by Newark in last year's finals, loomed as the team to beat this year, a tasty game around the state bowed. The New Phils beat Birchville 24-13 and East Liverpool 38-32 to run their unbeaten streak to 10, the best Ohio Class A mark. Warren, which turned in a 7-14 conquest of Niles and then lost out Akron South 21-20 over the weekend, has seven in a row, at most of the other big league quads have bowed at least once.

Dayton Fairview and Hamilton's Big Blue are high up in the race with 8-1 records. Fairview beating Dayton Roosevelt 20-15 last week while Hamilton swamped Norwood 16-6. Marion is close to the top with a 7-1 mark.

New Boston, winner of five straight, fell twice during the week. The Plains of Athens county played the first defeat by 24-20, and unbeaten Shawnee of Perry county followed up with a 31-25 verdict.

Alliance, which had copped five in a row, ran into the Friday 8th and Salem jinx at the same time and fell by 28-22. It was Salem's ninth win in ten starts against Alliance, the Aviators having conquered Salem last in 1932.

While some of the squads are rolling along in good shape others aren't doing so well. Youngstown Chancery absorbed its eighth straight setback at the hands of East Liverpool, while Canton Lehman took it on the chin for the seventh time in a row from Cuyahoga Falls, 37-9. The tough luck team, however, is Class B Bladenburg, in Knox county, which has scored only 5 points in losing seven straight, the last a 43 to 9 defeat at the hands of Howard.

Mt. Vernon, with six wins in light starts, is one of the top scorers in the state, counting 353 for a 1.6 average while holding the foe to 217. Mount's latest was a 52-20 win over Bucyrus. Don Bateman, Mount Vernon forward, counted 14 points by Bucyrus to run his total to 38, an average of 14.5.

Topping the individual feats were: Wilbur Coven of Elyria caved 27 points in the 43-31 win over Shaker Heights, tossing his team into a tie with Cleveland Shaw for the lake Erie League leadership; Bolig Rittman snared 26 as Millersburg was swamped 69-22; Howard Rush of Champion scored 25 to help beat Lorain 60 to 15; Elyria, Hart, Amanda sophomore, pulled 23 in the 36-33 win over Liberty Union; Winfield of Girard, 14th 21 points, beat McDonald 33-2, while Ward of East Liverpool contributed 19 in the 46-37 conquest of Youngstown Chaney.

While the Class A clean records are few and far between, a host of class B squads are rolling along unbeaten. Green Township of Scioto county, coached by Kenneth P. Jones, is right out front in the minors with 15 in a row, and 612 points to 284 for the opposition, an average of 41 for the Township and 21 for the foe. Latest wins by the leaders were 37-22 over Wheelersburg, and 30-29 over South point last weekend. Those rampant Waterloo Wonders of Lawrence county are among Green Township's victims, 38-35.

Other unbeaten Class B squads are: Champion with 13, Springfield Valley with 12, South Charleston with 11, Hartsville with 10, Canton Twp. and Amanda with nine, Utica, Plymouth, North Eaton, Rittman and West Chester with eight; and Amsterdam and Canton St. John with seven.

West Milton, Johnston and Harsburg have won 10 of 11. Sciotoville, after winning seven in a row, dropped out Saturday as Brookfield won 33-32 in the last live seconds on Nate Cooper's field goal.

BOWLING RESULTS

Despite losing two games to the Trades Class, the Altohouse Motors remained out in front in the Quaker City league at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

While the Motors were suffering their two defeats, the Burt C. Capel Realtors, who held second place, also dropped two of three games with the Harris Garage. The Realtors fell to fourth place by reason of the defeats.

The Economy V-8's and Calladine's Service moved into a tie for second place, the Economy team winning two out of three games from Flocking & Reynard and Calladine's taking two out of three from the Golden Eagle.

Other Quaker City matches saw the Lape Hotel win three heats with the Salem Motor and Coy Buicks take two out of three games with the Assorted Strikes.

The leading Mullins Foremen continued to pace the American league at the Masonic temple alleys, winning three games over Fernengel's Colts to go seven games out in front of its nearest rival.

The second-place Deming team won two out of three games from the Masons while in other matches the Ohio Edison took three heats with the Electric Furnace and Reich Sports won three games over the Carroll Ceglers.

UPSETS COMMON IN BIG 10 LOOP
It was a great night in Ohio collegiate cage ranks—for the other fellow.

The mid-season court whirl caught up three staunch Buckeye quintets last night and left them nursing more or less acute cases of vertigo.

Illinois blasted Ohio State from the Big Ten's undefeated division, 45 to 31. The loss was state's first in three conference games. The half-time count was 24-14 in the Illinois' favor.

Notre Dame enjoyed a basket picnic at the expense of Cleveland's Western Reserve, 59 to 36. But a total of 28 personal fouls attested that the Irish were compelled to take the tiff the hard way. Yet no player was ousted for roughness. The South Bend lads were ahead at intermission, 28-13. John Diven paced the invading Reserve machine with 14 points.

Xavier of Cincinnati, at Chicago to head DePaul university, received a 38 to 30 trimming.

In the state's sole all-Ohio battle, the slashing University of Toledo team hammered Baldwin-Wallace, 51 to 38, in an Ohio conference game. The Rockets led at the half, 27-20.

Chuck Chuckovits again copped individual honors with 16 markers. But B-W's Carl Crew, assigned to hold the sharpshooter in check, received a big hand from the fans for his excellent showing on the basis of past performances. Holding Chuckovits to 16 points is definitely something.

Minnesota and Indiana for the leadership, Illinois downed Ohio State 45 to 31, handily winning its third game in four starts. Illinois led at halftime, 24 to 14.

Wisconsin bounced back from Saturday's drubbing by Indiana to surprise Michigan, 42 to 39. The Badgers led at the half 20 to 18. Iowa, in winning its second game in four starts, held Chicago scoreless during the last 14 minutes and won 29 to 19.

Purdue's champion Boilermakers, finding the going rougher than did their 1937-38 shotmakers, suffered a 39 to 36 defeat from Indiana's Hoosiers.

Jamming its way into a tie with Minnesota and Indiana for the leadership, Illinois downed Ohio State 45 to 31, handily winning its third game in four starts. Illinois led at halftime, 24 to 14.

CAGE GAME HAS COME LONG WAY SINCE FOUNDED

Rules Remain Fundamentally Same, But Play Is Much Faster

By WILLARD N. GREIM
Chairman, National A. A. U. Basketball Committee

DENVER, Jan. 17.—Basketball as a sport has come a long distance since the "peach basket" days of the game at Springfield college when those Massachusetts boys were attempting to find a game that would be suitable for indoor play during winter months.

Several additions have been made to perfect the play but the fundamental rules of the game have remained unchanged. Attempts have been made to make the game faster and this accounts for the extension of the court beyond the bankboards.

A further attempt may some day be made to bring back the "peach baskets" by doing away with the bankboards and having two baskets about ten feet from the end lines which may be shot at from all directions.

The Amateur Athletic Union accepted the jurisdiction over basketball when it was developing into a nation-wide sport among players who had no other affiliation. There was an immediate demand for a national championship. These championships really came into note during the long period they were being held at Kansas City, Mo.

This year for the fifth consecutive year the men's basketball championships are to be held in Denver, Colo. The dates will be March 12-18. The past four tournaments have been very successful from all points of view. During the past tournaments the number of teams has ranged from 45 to 54 and the attendance increased to 30,000.

Teams have come from such distant points as New York City, New Orleans, North Carolina, Texas, California and Washington as well as from many points not so far away. In 1938, 24 of the 39 associations of the A. A. U. were represented by their champions in the national tournament.

Plans are being made to entertain the various teams this year and while it is too much to expect a representative of every association, preparations are being made to take care of all if they wish to come. Association champions are preferred but the entry of any team will be accepted if its record is worthy and it can obtain clearance from its home association. Past tournaments have had about one-third college teams.

Team entries will close Wednesday, March 8. The 1939 tournament will perhaps furnish a new champion and new names on the all-America A. A. U. team.

Eight Ohio-Owned Trotters Eligible For Hambletonian

Eligible For Hambletonian

BY FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—Eight three-year-old trotters owned by Ohioans were among the field of 45 kept eligible today for the 13th renewal of the $40,000 Hambletonian—the "Kentucky Derby" of the harness sport to be raced in August at the Good Time park triangular track in Goshen, N. Y.

The richest stake in light harness racing drew one more entry than the 1938 event as owner paid the $250 necessary to keep their trotters eligible until the day before the race when they must lay an additional $500 "on the line" to send their horses to the post.

With the payment of the $250 today, the total fee on each entrant amounted to $460. Each will have $650 in actual cash invested as the big classic starts.

Indications of another increase, for the 1940 Hambletonian, were seen as 117 trotters, which became two years old on Jan. 1, were kept eligible for the 14th renewal. A year ago payments were made on only 101 for this year's event.

Ohio horses kept eligible for the 1939 classic, with their owners, were:

Peter Astra, owned by Dr. L. M. Gullinger of Andover, which hung up a record of 2:02½ against time at Pinehurst last fall; Denny, owned by John F. Davis of Toledo; Bohemian King, owned by L. E. Greer of Newark; Selkamite, owned by Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus; Tom McKinney, owned by J. J. Mooney of Fremont; Princess Margaret and the Abbott, owned by Mooney and W. H. Strang of New York; and Stardust, owned by Henry E. Warwick of Cleveland Heights.

Nibble Hanover, champion juvenile of 1938 with a record of 2:02½ established in the Kentucky futurity, is the winter favorite in the big Goshen race, but Peter Astra is rated a close second to the champion owned by Dunbar W. Bostwick of Aiken, S. C., and his sister, Mrs. Ogden Phipps of Old Westbury, L. I. Bostwick is expected to drive Nibble Hanover himself, since he has been supervising personally the conditioning of the trotter for which he paid $2,000 as a yearling.

Princess Margaret, owned jointly by Strang and Mooney, was one of the high-priced yearlings at $6,800, but showed little as a juvenile in 1938. However, her owners believe that her breeding, Peter Voio Margaret Arion, will bring her to the front this year in time to be a distinct threat in the harness classic.

The Methodists' triumph, hoping four field goals to lead the M. E. scoring with eight points.

The Methodists "A" was handed its second defeat in seven starts in one of three other Class B games, falling before Demings, 18 to 16. The victory was the fifth in seven games for the Pumpmakers.

Demings was outscored seven points to six in the second half after gaining a three-point lead, 12 to 9, in the first half. Allen led Demings' point-making with five markers as all but one of eight players who saw action for the Pumpmakers broke into the scoring.

The Carroll Cadets posted their fifth victory in seven games to move into a tie for fourth place with Demings and the Methodists "A" by trouncing Roberts' Men's Shop, 26 to 12.

Zilavy and Hanzlick shared scoring honors with six points apiece in leading the Cadets to the victory. The Carroll quint led 9 to 6 at halftime.

Holding their opponent to one point in the first half and five points in the second half, the K. of C. walloped the Christians, 16 to 6. Julian scored nine points on three field goals and three foul shots to lead the K. of C. scoring. The Knights of Columbus led, 5 to 1, at the intermission.

Games scheduled for the Class A and Class B leagues at the Memorial building tonight will start one hour earlier than usual.

THE GUMPS—A FRIEND IN NEED

Theatre Attractions

Kay Francis and Ian Hunter in a scene from "Comet Over Broadway" which will be at the State theater Wednesday-only attraction.

"Comet Over Broadway," starring Kay Francis, will be the Wednesday-only attraction at the State theater.

Also in the screen adaptation of the Fuld Baldwin story are: Ian Hunter, John Littel, Donald Crisp, Minna Gombel, the now 9-year-old Sybil Jason, Ian Keith and Melville Cooper.

Story of Actress' Career

The story carries Kay from a stage-struck girlhood in a small middle-western town through disheartening years of playing in traveling tent shows, burlesque and vaudeville, then recounts her first moves toward success in the more respectable stratum of the theater; next covers an interlude in England during which she becomes a reigning stage favorite there; and finally shows the night of her first great triumph—where she is destined to become a "Comet Over Broadway."

That professional progress, however, is only the background of the real drama in the life of the woman depicted by Kay. Along the way, Kay has seen her husband go to jail for life for a murder he did not commit, she has promised to devote her life to obtaining his freedom, she has relinquished her infant daughter to a woman friend who could give the child a normal home life, and finally she has fallen in love with a theatrical producer who knows nothing of her past life.

At the time of her greatest success professionally, she learns that her husband's release from jail can be effected, if she can raise the

45 Attend Lisbon Forum Gathering

LISBON, Jan. 17. — Forty-five persons attended the third rural forum session here Monday night.

General discussions were held on two topics: "Should we adopt a policy of production control in agriculture?" and "What kind of industrial policy is best for agriculture?" The discussions were led by County Agent Floyd Lower.

Visitors included Virgil Wertz and Earl Jones of the agricultural department, Ohio State university. Songs were by Miss Esther Binsley. The next meeting, Feb. 6, will feature panel discussions on the subject, "Will Machinery Dominate Man?" Another topic will be "What Kind of Tax System Do Ohio Farmers Want?"

ground. I ran toward some bushes, the Indians firing at me as I ran. Turning, I saw Coy, still standing and fighting, although badly wounded. Call was down, but was using his gun with a wounded hand. Mackenzie I did not see, but Miller was running across a hill in a direction to the right of me.

"I ran down in a little gully and up the other side, striking the road at about 300 yards distance from the scene of the attack. At this point I came upon the second stage, the horses galloping madly down the road. I made a spur for the coach and managed to catch the sides as it dashed along.

Stung By Bullet

"As I swung clear of the ground, one of the Indian bullets tore the heel from my boot and another struck the ground beneath me, glancing upward and stinging my ankle.

"I managed to crawl over onto the driver's seat where I protected myself from the bullets and urged the horses to their utmost. The Indians followed me on foot for about two miles before I outdistanced them.

"After I had driven about three miles, one of the horses, which had been wounded, gave out. I stopped, cut the freshest horse loose, and grabbing some coats from the seat, I rode into Cobachi, a small town about 10 miles from the scene of the attack.

"I was almost exhausted when I reached the community, but made an attempt to organize a rescue party. Not being able to speak Spanish, I found it difficult to make people understand what had happened. It was almost dark when a small party of us finally started. After going only a few miles, darkness came on, and members of the rescue party refused to go any further.

"At midnight the same night Miller, who ran 11 miles to safety after fleeing the attack, managed to organize a party. They returned to the scene and brought the bodies to a ranch seven miles north of Cobachi.

"Early the morning of Jan. 20, I returned to the spot where my cousin had been killed and gathered up a few papers that had been left by the Indians.

Victims Beaten

"The stages had been plundered and burned, the Indians taking all clothes and other articles. The bodies of the unfortunate men had been terribly mutilated, their heads having been beaten by a club which was found nearby.

"Miller and I lost all of our money and it was only through the kindness of the Bank of Sonora and two American banks in Nogales on the United States and Mexican border that we were able to secure funds to return the bodies of the slain men to their homes."

As a reminder of the eventful escape, Tolerton received a letter last Friday from Miller, who closes his writing with: "The hope you are all well and prosperous is the wish of one of the two fastest runners in the world."

Tolerton planned to answer Miller's letter, mailing his reply so that it would reach Miller on Jan. 19, the date of the attack 34 years ago.

necessary sum. The decision that she finally makes forms the potent dramatic climax of "Comet Over Broadway."

Comedy Concludes

The comedy, "Artists and Models Abroad," featuring Jack Benny, Joan Bennett, Charley Grapewin and Mary Boland, concludes tonight at the State.

The Grand will present two pictures on Wednesday. The first is "Down in Arkansas" with the Weaver Brothers and Elvira, Ralph Byrd, June Storey and Pinky Tomlin.

The second film is a mystery, "Flight to Fame," with Charles Farrell and Jacqueline Wells in the leading roles.

Coal Mine Pickets Warned By Deputy

LISBON, Jan. 17.—A complaint charging mine pickets with stopping trucks and preventing drivers from hauling coal from the Leatherberry mine near Wellsville was investigated Monday by Deputy Sheriff M. K. Duty.

The complaint was filed by Warren Fife, leasor of the mine. Mr. Fife stated the mine employed about 20 workers who were now on strike for higher wages. He said that following the strike he had employed 12 men to work the mine and that the trucks hauling the coal had been stopped recently by pickets.

The pickets denied using coercion or intimidation. The deputy warned them against unlawful acts. Employees of the Swearingen mine, nearby, also are reported striking. This mine employs approximately the same number of men as the Leatherberry mine.

Both groups are said to have affiliated recently with the United Mine Workers of America. Ambrose Mundy of Salineville is president of the local.

Injured In Prank

CINCINNATI, Jan. 17. — Frank Morgan, 31, was in serious condition today from wounds suffered in a prank. Detective Chief Emmett D. CARR REFUSES TO RESIGN JOB

Suspended Highway Aid Depends On Civil Service Rule

Dismissals in other divisions were expected to boost the firings to around 2,000, as department heads sought to carry out Bricker's order to put the state government on a "business-like basis."

Administration leaders said provisional appointees of former Gov. Martin L. Davey's regime had been hit hardest by the "purge" and that hundreds of jobs had been abolished to effect economies.

Carr, who was appointed during former Gov. George White's administration while serving as an examiner in the office of former State Auditor Joseph Tracy, a Republican, asserted that his civil service classification entitled him to full protection regardless of politics.

"Civil service was intended to prevent the placing of efficient employees in the public service on a political auction block," Carr said. "The new Republican administration has pledged itself to protect the rights of civil service workers and I am going to protect my rights."

Denies Knowledge of Burning "I tried to do a good job and I know nothing about this reported order for division engineers to burn any records."

Beightler said he had not fixed the responsibility for the order. Disappearance of records also was reported by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood. He said that official records were intact but that correspondence between former Director Margaret Allman and Davey was missing.

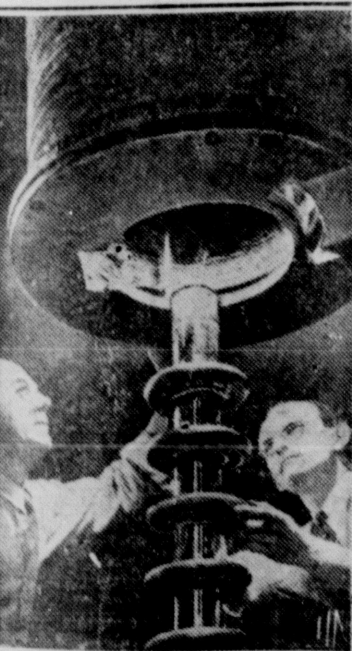

Carr said that he was first asked to resign last Thursday but refused, offering instead to step down to permit naming of a Republican to the post. He said Beightler told him about the burned records Saturday. That night he received notice of his suspension by registered letter, Carr said.

Payless vacations until Feb. 1 for 36 employees of the building division were ordered by Carl G. Wahl, state director of public works, a holdover from the Davey administration. Wahl said he hoped to work out a plan by that time to conform with an $18,000,000 budget cut contained in his half-year appropriations.

Among those taking "vacations" was Xenophon G. Hassenpflug, named superintendent of state-occupied buildings in Columbus by Wahl.

NURSE SPEAKS AT COLUMBIANA

Miss Mary Louise Tracy of Salem City Hospital Is Guest of Rotary Club

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 17. — Miss Mary Louise Tracy, director of nurses of the Salem City hospital was guest-speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Columbiana Rotary club at Valley Golf club.

John Ryan, Jr. had charge of the program and also introduced his guests: his father, J. G. Ryan, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Russell Linnestahl, instructors of nurses at the Salem hospital.

Miss Tracy told of her profession, its history before and after its basic foundation by Florence Nightingale, present day requirements, etc.

The club accepted an invitation to join in the annual American Legion Washington's birthday banquet, Feb. 20. Frank Griffin will be in charge of next week's meeting.

Columbiana High school basketball teams start their "two games per week" schedule this week, meeting McDonald High on the local floor Tuesday evening and making their first appearance in the new Lisbon High gym Friday night. Last year at McDonald the red and white were easy winners, 52-24, but the visitors are a much improved aggregation this season.

The score in last year's Lisbon game was 35-18 in favor of Columbiana, but the county seat lads are stronger this season. The Columbiana Parent-Teacher association will present a "Choral Speaking Concert" at its meeting Wednesday evening in the school auditorium. The concert will be given by the pupils of Pitch school, Austintown, under the direction of Mrs. Marie Verschoor.

She has presented her pupils in numerous concerts with excellent results. Among the selections to be given are: "The House With No Body In It," "The Congo," and many humorous poems and nursery rhymes. All school pupils, parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

the fund deficiency.

Other Recommendations

Other gubernatorial recommendations included:

GRAFT — A permanent statute providing removal and other penalties for state officers guilty of "collusion" in making purchases or contracts except to the lowest and best bidder, a proposal aimed at "legalized graft" for which the Davey administration was criticized by a senate committee last year.

CIVIL SERVICE — Replace the present two-member commission with a personnel administrator under a three-member board of review or with a three-member commission to halt abuse of the merit system.

UNEMPLOYMENT — Compensation — Replace the present Democratic-controlled commission with "men of unquestioned integrity and high motives not hampered by a narrow partisan administration."

EDUCATION — Submit to the voters a constitutional amendment for a state board of education which would appoint the director of education.

COURTS — Eliminate "short term" vacancy elections.

POOR RELIEF — Adopt a long-term program, state and local governments to share the cost but with state control over administration reduced to a minimum.

OLD AGE PENSIONS — Create an advisory board and eliminate "dishonest and politically-motivated administration" of aged benefits, a division still under control of a Davey appointee.

WELFARE — Integrate public assistance programs, including federal aids, and reorganize department.

CONSERVATION — Name a new council with power to appoint the conservation commissioner, now selected by the director of agriculture; division criticized as having been "hampered by narrow partisan politics."

INDUSTRY — Create a bureau to attract new capital and enterprise to the state, to publicize Ohio's historical and scenic attractions for tourists, and to promote new uses for agricultural products.

Republican leaders quickly commended the message as a reaffirmation of the party's campaign pledges, said it presaged harmonious relations between the executive and legislative branches and predicted the program would be enacted promptly.

Administration measures, they said, were being prepared to carry out the governor's recommendations and most of them probably would be introduced before the end of the week.

Democrats generally declined to comment on the message.
